Test: On the way to school

I started school very early. I was enrolled in the French school. Immediately after breakfast my sister and I would start out for school, carrying our exercise-books and note books in a satchel made of raffia. On the way we would be joined by schoolmates, and the nearer we got to the school buildings the larger our little band would grow. My sister would keep with the girls, and I would walk with the boys. And tike all little boys we liked to tease the girls and pull their.
