Concours d'Entrée à l'Ecole Normale Supérieure

Octobre 2021

Niveau: LICENCE

EPREUVE DE : Reading Comprehension (3 hours)

Subject 2:

Text:

A lot of people enjoy surfing the Net. They look for interesting Web sites and chat with people all over the world. However, some people spend such many hours online that they are Internet addicts. Although an average person spends about eight to twelve hours per week, but an addict spends eight to twelve hours per day online. Because addicts spend so much time interacting with the computer, so their lives are negatively affected. They become social recluses, because they stop going out and talking to people face-to-face. They avoid real-life social situations, preferring instead to be in a dimly lit room with only the glowing screen to light up their lives.

Internet addiction affects not only the addicts themselves but also the people around them. For example, John's marriage to Marta broke up until he insisted on spending so many hours on the Net. As soon as he arrived home from work he was at his computer. While he finished dinner, he would disappear into his computer room again. He paid so little attention to her, that she finally divorced him.

Since college students are especially technologically skilled they can easily become nonstop Net-surfers. Most colleges provide computers at several locations around campus, so that students can use them at any time day or night. As a result, students can spend too much time surfing the Net instead of "surfing" their textbooks. Last semester, nine freshmen at Berkshire College flunked out although they became internet addicts. In short, even though the Internet is an excellent source of information and entertainment, but we must not let it take over our lives.

Le problème du chômage

Notre société est confrontée à un problème majeur qui est celui du chômage. Le chômage n'est pas uniquement le problème de ces nombreuses personnes qui n'arrivent pas à trouver du travail, mais aussi celui de leurs familles et communautés.

Le cas du chômage est particulièrement grave dans les grandes villes où il y a plus de gens à la recherche du travail qu'il y a du travail disponible. Le problème est que beaucoup viennent des campagnes, attirés par la magie de la ville. Ils constituent souvent de la main-d'œuvre non-qualifiée et sans diplôme qui puisse susciter l'intérêt des éventuels employeurs.

Puisqu'ils n'ont pas de travail, certains d'entre eux se tournent vers le crime pour pouvoir subvenir à leurs besoins.

Qu'est-ce qu'il faut faire pour prévenir le chômage ? Ce n'est pas une question facile à répondre, mais peut-être, l'éducation est une solution.

Good Luck !!!
