SITUATION

CONTEXT: War

Refugee camps, designed to provide safety for displaced persons, have historically been, and continue to be, vulnerable to infiltration by armed groups and terrorists. While refugees often flee to these sites to escape violence, the lack of security, high levels of desperation, and porous borders in conflict zones can turn camps into areas where terrorist organizations hide, operate, or recruit.

Refugee camps can serve as a more cost-efficient and safer method of helping refugees. Yet this view ignores the hidden dangers lurking in large, usually ungoverned, refugee camps. Displaced people warehoused in camps can become alienated and radicalized. The camps can be infiltrated by terrorist groups, and can fuel tensions between refugees and countries. Indeed, terrorists have used chaotic, crowded refugee camps to undermine rival governments.

I. Reading Comprehension: (4 pts.)

Instruction: Use the passage above and your own experience to answer the following questions.

A. Write a sentence to answer these questions (2 pts.)

1. Give two causes that push people to live in refugee camps.
2. Explain the danger terrorists can bring in refugee camps

B. Vocabulary (2 pts.)

Instruction: explain each of the underlined word in this sentence “Displaced people warehoused in camps can become alienated and radicalized”

II. Language (8 pts.)

A. Structure (4 pts.)

Instruction: Build four (4) sentences using the passive voice about the mess – the bad things – terrorists do to civilians. Follow the model: My phone has been confiscated by a terrorist.

B. Function (4 pts.)

Instruction: A commando of FAMA has arrived in a village. The Chief of the commando asks for information with Ayoub who answers and gives information. Write the dialogue in four (4) exchanges.

III. Translation (2 pts.)

Instruction: translate the passage into

- A. French (1 pt.): While refugees often flee to these sites to escape violence, the lack of security, high levels of desperation, and porous borders in conflict zones can turn camps into areas where terrorist organizations hide, operate, or recruit.
- B. French (1 pt.): Les camps de réfugiés en Afrique sont de plus en plus infiltrés par des groupes terroristes, notamment au Sahel, transformant des lieux de refuge en zones d'insécurité. Ces groupes recrutent, enlèvent des personnes, et créent un climat de peur, forçant souvent les réfugiés à fuir à nouveau ou à changer leur mode de vie.

IV. Writing: (4 pts.)

Instructions: Choose only one

- A. Refer to what you have learned in class and your own experience to write a paragraph of eighty (80) words to sensitize a young terrorist to abandon the crazy adventure he is in.
- B. Aïcha has a friend Alassane who has joined a terrorist organization. She has got her friend on the phone. She asks him the reasons that have pushed him to join the terrorists and tries to convince him to leave that organization.

Write a dialogue of ten exchange dialogue between the two persons.
